Table of Contents

List of Illustrations
xiii

I. Origins
- Participation of Balkan Paramilitaries in the Balkan Wars and the Great War
- The Balkans after the Great War

II. Demobilization vs. Mobilization
- New Colours in the Balkan Palette of Paramilitarism
  - Whites
  - Reds

III. Balkan Borderlands
- Initial Usage of Paramilitaries in the Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, and Controversies that Occurred
- Bulgaria and Paramilitarism: Weak State vs. Strong Movements
- Albania: Paramilitarism or Pre-militarism?
- Chetniks in the Post-Black Hand Era
  - Toplica Uprising 1917: Cornerstone of Post-Great War Chetnik Identity

IV. New Context + Traditional Methods = Unexpected Outcomes
- Initial Response to Paramilitary Activities in the Yugoslav South
- Introduction of Extraordinary Measures
- Organization against Bulgarian Bandits

V. The Age of Coups d'état
- Bulgarian 1923
  - June Coup d'état
  - September Uprising or Revolution?
- Albanian Uprising
  - Zogu's Ascent to Power
  - Albania Under Fan Noli

VI. Individuals and Organizations
- Renegades
- Life Trajectories of some of the Balkans Paramilitaries
- International Networks
TABLE OF CONTENTS

VII. Legacies

Between World Wars  194
Second World War and Paramilitaries in the Balkans: Between Resistance, Collaboration, Revolutions, Counterrevolutions and Civil Wars  197
Paramilitaries and Paramilitarism in the Balkans after the Second World War  206
Inventing Traditions: Paramilitarism and the 'Wars of the Yugoslav Succession'  215
Conclusion: Balkan Paramilitaries  225

Works Cited  243
Index  255